

all angels' church

If your heart was pricked when I mentioned from the pulpit that it's time to start actively working on our inner selves, this opportunity is for you. If you want to start practicing, working and living into the righteousness All Angels aims for then participating in our Sacred Ground cohort is for you. These sessions will focus on important internal work to help us grow our community, love and justice muscles. If you feel a call or desire to journey more deeply into the work of living into love then RSVP with Courtney Bryant at revdr.courtneybryant@gmail.com. Our next meeting will be in October.

Here's what former Bishop Michael Curry has to say about the Sacred Ground Experience
